

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to apply for the UI designer intern position in Washington, DC, Promantus Inc.

A brief introduction about myself: My name is You Zhou. I am a full time Computer Science major master student in Worcester Polytechnic Institute, MA. Currently I am at the first year of my two year graduate program. I graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science this summer from prestigious Xi'an Jiaotong University, China.

With strong interest in computer science, I chose this major for both my undergrad and graduate study. I have obtained solid knowledge background from courses study, as well as gained practical experiences from carrying out projects in my past internship works. To name a few, based on MVC pattern, I took part in java web application development of bank system when I was doing my summer internship in Digital China in 2015. I have the experience to develop web-based software in 2016. I developed the front end for SDN network information searching using html and javascript(jquery and bootstrap.js). Besides, I am familiar with python and I have experiences to implement some search algorithms and data science applications such as machine learning, datasets analysis. I also have many experience for databases and SQL, most of them are relational databases, such as oracle, mysql. However, recently I focus on new technology such as Hadoop, MangoDB. Last but not least, I have project experience on kaggle competitions, one of which required competitors to identify nerve segmentations according to ultrasound images. Through this competition I got familiar with deep learning and obtained some teamwork skills.

I enjoy the deep learning curve I went through from past internship experiences, and appreciate these opportunities to prepare me better for future career options. That's why I am very interested in UI designer Intern position in Promantus Inc, in that I would like to get this chance to contribute to the team, while learn from this great company.

I have submitted my resume for your review and I appreciate any opportunity to discuss my candidacy further as well as learn more about Promantus Inc. Please feel free to reach me via email at yzhou11@wpi.edu or by phone at 508-304-0271.

Looking forward to speaking with you.

Sincerely,

You Zhou
