To Whom It May Concern:

I am excited to submit my application for the Software Engineer position I saw listed in Handshake. I am confident that my relevant education, experience and skills related to this position merit your consideration.

As you can see on my resume, I will complete my bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science at UC Berkeley in May 2017. While this education has trained me with a strong background in many aspects of computer science and engineering, it has also provided me the chance to demonstrate my interests and abilities in computer software design and project development through practical experience.

Besides experience gained from school, I have also fostered my software engineering skills through internships. In my position as Software Engineer Intern with IBM China, I was involved in a project of designing and implementing an online shopping system for Bank of China. Through the project, I participated in the analysis of customer needs and perspectives. Additionally, I implemented parts of the system that managed customer information by using Java Server Page and SQL Server.

Additionally, I have developed my interest in data analysis through my internship with Zhuge IO, a Software as a Service company in Beijing, providing data analysis for Internet companies. During this internship as a Software Engineer, I mainly focused on developing several API interfaces using Flask and Flask RESTful for connecting databases and generating statistics of individual user information, user retention, status change over a certain duration and functional uses of the company's service. This internship showed me the charm and power of data, which would help me go further in the industry.

Although the enclosed resume thoroughly outlines my education and experience, I would appreciate the opportunity to demonstrate in an interview my knowledge of employee training and development, initiative, and interpersonal skills. You can contact me at 401-347-4108 or lizelong1993@berkeley.edu to set up an interview. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,
Zelong Li
